Genoa, "La Superba", is a city that makes a profound impression. Sandwiched between the sea and the Ligurian hills, Genoa spreads upwards from the port, a jumble of a city with a long and chequered history. This European Capital of Culture in 2004 has dozens of museums and galleries, a renowned theatre and the largest aquarium in Europe. The city has good shopping, the best nightlife in Liguria and excellent restaurants. Day excursions along the stunning Ligurian coast are highly recommended.

THE CITY

s74 / Shutterstock.com

Genoa: the birthplace of Christopher Columbus and Paganini, Italy's biggest port and, as Charles Dickens remarked in 1844 "A city of the strangest contrasts." Renaissance palaces, grand 19th-century boulevards and gilded Baroque churches are squeezed alongside, and on top of, a warren of steep medieval streets. Fine restaurants and chic bars are hidden in the narrow alleys. Genoa is made for exploring and getting lost in the medieval quarter - one of Europe's largest - and is all part of the experience. With one of the biggest universities in Italy, Genoa's student population guarantees a buzzing nightlife.

DO & SEE

ppi09 / Shutterstock.com

Genoa and Liguria are famous for pesto, the delicious pasta sauce made from basil, pine nuts, olive oil and parmesan. If you think you know pesto because you buy it in a jar - think again. There is nothing like a dish of fresh vivid-green pesto served with the local pasta (little twists of troffie) or spaghetti-like trenette. Other specialities include farinata, a bread-like snack made from chickpeas, focaccia, fish dishes (particularly salt cod-baccalà), mushroom dishes and stuffed meat dishes. Plan to eat out in Genoa? Remember that many restaurants are closed on Sunday and Saturday lunchtime.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Roberto Lo Savio / Shutterstock.com

Genoa has a lively nightlife, thanks to the vast number of students who attend the city's university. During the week, bars, wine bars and pubs are popular - many of these are pretty small and people tend to hop from one to another as the evening progresses. Many bars opens around 6:00 pm for Italian aperitivo (a pre-meal drink) and stay open until around 1:00 am. On the weekend, closing time is extended to 2:00 am and many will have a DJ set on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Discotheques tend to be found outside of the city centre, alongside the magical Ligurian riviera.

Piazza delle Erbe

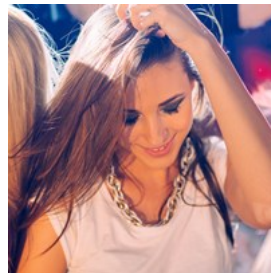

Piazza delle Erbe is just below Piazza de Ferrari and is a small square with tables around where several bars serves locals and travellers food, beer and wine. At night, especially on Fridays, the atmosphere gets very lively when many young locals are gathering here with friends.

SHOPPING

Kamil Macniak / Shutterstock.com

There is some good shopping in Genoa, from designer goods and shoes, through high-street fashion and cheap fakes. On Via XX Settembre, a long, wide boulevard right in the centre of the city, you will find high-quality chain stores, designer stores - and some good shoe stores. Rinascente, the well-known Italian department store is located in Via Vernazza, which runs parallel to Via XX Settembre. You will also find the Mercato Orientale a great food market, selling all kinds of fruit, vegetable, fish, meat, cheese and bread. Unlike many stores, it is open Monday morning.

Nearby is Via Roma, which is also good for designer fashion. Running parallel is the 19th century glass and metal Galleria Mazzini, with small fashion and accessory stores and cafés. For more affordable shopping try heading to Maddalena, a maze of tiny streets. In this part of Genoa's historic centre, you will find a huge range of small stores, selling clothing, jewellery, shoes and accessories food stores and bakeries. Via San Luca is good for contemporary high-street Italian fashion, but if you looking for a designer outlet and bargains, head to Via Caffa.

Mercato Orientale

Mercato Orientale is an indoor market offering fresh fruit, vegetables, meat, cheese, fresh fish, spices, pasta and other products. This market has two entrances and the main one is in via XX Settembre. Just to stroll around and enjoy all the attractive stalls selling Italian specialties is a true pleasure - definitely a place to visit for all foodies.

Airport

International airport of Genova Sestri, Cristoforo Colombo, is located about 7 km from the centre of Genoa. The airport shuttle bus runs every day from 5:20 am to 11.30 pm, to and from the railway station and the journey takes around 30-40 minutes. Buy a ticket on-board, which is valid for the day on all city buses, but also on subway, elevators and on the metropolitan trains.

Taxi are available just outside the arrival terminal. To take a taxi is not very expensive since the airport is located close to the city centre (only 7 km). There is a tourist information stand in the arrival hall if you have any questions about the taxi price. Radio Taxi, Tel +39 010 5966, www.5966.it

There are nine car hire companies on-site such as Avis, Hertz, Europcar, Budget, Sixt and enterprise. It is only a 15-minute drive from the airport to the city centre.

Public Transport

Walking is the only form of transport possible in the historic centre of Genoa - the streets are too narrow for cars.

Having said that, the bus system is extensive and the ticket is valid for 90 minutes (you can buy it at newsstands). The public transport service in Genoa is run by a company called AMT.

Genoa has a subway system, indicated by a red M that currently has 8 stops. You will find automatic ticket machines in all the stations, valid for 90 minutes or the whole day.

In addition to the funicular, Genoa also has elevators for locals who live uphill. There are a number of these around the city and the standard AMT tickets are valid!
