THE CITY

GoneWithTheWind / Shutterstock.com

Rimini belongs to the Emilia-Romagna region of Italy and is the capital city of the Province of Rimini. It is located between the rivers Marecchia and Ausa and is a city of contrasts. In the center, for instance, ancient narrow streets and cosmopolitan squares, such as Piazza Cavour, Piazza Tre Martiri and Corso d'Augusto stand in contrast to the tourist zones and beach areas where lively bars and restaurants attract families and couples alike.

Rimini is divided into districts, each with its own unique character: Bellariva, Marebello, Marina Centro, Miramare, Rivabella, Rivazzurra, San Giuliano Mare, Torre Pedrera and Viserba. The 'must+see' attractions include the beautiful Tiberius Bridge, which dates from the 1st Century AD, the Pigna Fountain and the Great Arch of Augustus.

Passport / Visa

Italy can be visited visa-free for up to 90 days by citizens from Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia, Israel, UAE and most countries in America. If you are not sure whether or not you need to apply for a visa, we recommend you to contact the embassy or consulate in your country. In order to enter the Schengen zone, international (non-Schengen) travelers need a passport that is valid for at least 3 months after the end of their intended trip. Citizens from Schengen countries can travel without a passport, but they must bring with them a valid ID during their stay.

Best Time to Visit

The best time to visit Rimini is during the summertime, as the city is famous throughout Italy for its beach resorts and vibrant nightlife. The climate is warm in spring and early autumn, and very hot during the summer months (June-August), which makes it perfect for a beach vacation. Also, the major events and festivals are held during the summer, like the famous Pink Night, which usually takes place during the first week of July.

Rimini, however, has more to offer, and if you just want to visit the city and enjoy its museums and historical places, summer probably isn't a good idea, as the city gets very crowded and the prices rise considerably during the high season. In September-October the weather is still warm, but the city is quieter, and much more enjoyable.

Public Transport

The best way to get around the Rimini city centre is to walk. You can also get around easily by taxi or by hiring a car or bicycle. AMR buses and trams operate throughout the city and outlying suburbs. Tickets can be purchased at the ticket shops located throughout the city, at the automated ticket machines or directly on board with an extra charge. A one-way ticket costs around 1.30 € in the urban area of Rimini.
