THE CITY

In the southern suburbs of Birmingham you will find this lovely town whose history dates back to 50AD when the Romans arrived. Back in the days Worcester was a flourishing little town where traffic passed through. Situated in a hub of several highways, Worcester today is still easy accessible from all parts of the country.

Sitting on River Severn, this charming town offers stunning sceneries and the picturesque countryside can be found just around the corner. Worcester is particularly known for its beautiful cathedral and the Rugby Worcester Warriors team, one of the town's real prides. The town also houses the Lea & Perrins factory, that makes the famous Worcester Sauce, the University of Worcester and the Royal Worcester Porcelain.
