The coastal barrier city of New Smyrna Beach is “Florida’s Secret Pearl” with good reason. Consistently given recognition on numerous “best surf town” lists, New Smyrna Beach was even ranked as “one of the world’s top 20 surf towns” by National Geographic Magazine in 2012. Watersports remain its most popular feature, with swimming, scuba diving, kitesurfing, and surfing at the forefront. Outdoors enthusiasts have little fear, however: you’ll discover myriad opportunities to fish, sail, motorboat, golf, hike, and more at New Smyrna Beach!

THE CITY

Bridging the historic mainland with the “island” and its white, sandy beaches, the six-mile New Smyrna Beach (NSB) Waterfront Loop creates the heart of New Smyrna Beach. The loop views are of the Intracoastal Waterway, Indian River and Atlantic Ocean.

In Orlando Sentinel surveys, central Floridians have named New Smyrna “Florida’s Best Beach” seven years running.

New Smyrna Beach claims the distinction of being the second oldest city in Florida, though some historians believe it is even older than St. Augustine. Over 30 historical legends, artifacts and local site stand as a testament to New Smyrna Beach’s rich history.

DO & SEE

While the Beaches are a main attraction in New Smyrna Beach, there are other water attractions and historical sights to enjoy to take in all of this attractive town.

Beaches and Surfing

The main event in New Smyrna Beach is the 13 miles of white sandy beaches. Most visitor choose sunbathing, swimming, bicycling, strolling or surfing some of the finest wave action on the East Coast.

Spectacular Sunset River Cruise & Dinner

Eldora State House

In 1877, the small community of Eldora was established on the southern inland waterway. While the exact population of early Eldora is unknown, deeds and tax records indicate there were 50 to 75 people. The agricultural community thrived until the late 1880s and 1890s when freezes destroyed the citrus crops. Today, two buildings remain: the Eldora "State" House and a post office/citrus packinghouse.
