The tall spires of the Cathedral are visible from far away, and they function as a perfect introduction to the beauty that Zagreb has to offer its visitors. For centuries Zagreb has been a focal point of culture and science, and it has now developed into a centre of commerce and industry as well. The town has, in recent years, become one of the most popular places in former Eastern Europe to visit. It is very much a town with an outdoor lifestyle which offers culture as well as clubbing, and that is one of the many reasons why people of all ages love this fantastic, dazzling place.

THE CITY

The town of Zagreb is divided into three parts, and two of them are stunningly beautiful. The thousand-year old Gornji grad (Upper town) contains the Presidential Palace, the historic church of St. Mark's, the Croatian parliament, museums and galleries. They are all set in romantic cobbled streets, which are lit by gas lamps in the evenings. The other extraordinary district is the 19th century Donji grad (Lower town) with its shops, restaurants, cafés, theatres, parks and spectacular buildings, all making it a stunning place. Zagreb is also a city of green parks and walks, with many places to visit in the beautiful surroundings. The city will enter into the third millennium with a population of an estimated one million. In spite of the rapid development of the economy and transportation, it has retained its charm, and a relaxed feeling that makes it a genuinely human city.

DO & SEE

Gordana Sermek

The best way to explore the city Zagreb is by foot, many tourist attractions like monuments, cathedrals, museums and parks are located in the city center. Some attractions that are located outside the city can easily be accessible by bus or a tram.

Gornji Grad

The Stone Gate is one of the 'must-see' things in Zagreb. The gate is the last remaining entrance to the city. Inside Kamenita vrata (Stone Gate), you will find one of Zagreb's most popular shrines, a 16th-century statue of the Virgin Mary in a grille-covered niche. There are many visitors who come here to say a prayer or to light a votive candle.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

paul prescott

Zagreb is full of bars and pubs. At Tkalciceva there seems to be a pub every few metres and the area is superb for a pub crawl - as it looks like one vast outdoor bar. Most bars and pubs open around midday.

Zagreb has a solid and lively nightlife that revolves around several characterful and informal clubs and discos. Most of the activity is from September and late June, and some of the clubs shut down for the summer, as many locals go and visit the islands.

Hemingway

Hemingway is a very popular cocktail bar, especially amongst Zagreb's trend-setting clientele. The bar is located in the center of Zagreb and can be enjoyed in three separate areas; ground floor, VIP lounge and first floor with a dance floor. On the drink menu you will find over 250 tasty cocktails.

SHOPPING

paul prescott

When shopping in Zagreb you will find plenty of national and international designer's clothes right in the heart of the city. The city offers everything from local stores on Ilica Street and souvenir outlets based near the cathedral to large shopping centres all over the city such as Importanne Galleria on Iblerov Trg. together with the Centre Kaptol, which is situated on Tkalčićeva. The choice is endless.

Ilica

Ilica is the longest and most popular street of Zagreb. It starts from the square of Jelacic and from there is pretty much covered in shops.

However, most of them sell clothes and shoes only, but it is on this street that you will find all the designer brands.

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

Airport

Zagreb Airport is situated about 10 kilometres southeast of the city.

Every half hour, from 7.30 in the morning and 20.00, buses run by Croatian Airways connect to the bus station. A taxi from the airport to the city centre will take about 25 minutes.

Public transport

The local transport in Zagreb is shared between an efficient system of buses and trams that are run by ZET, the municipal authorities. The trams start at 04.00 and operate a daily scheme until 23.20, then the night service starts to operate. The night service is slightly infrequent, and it is difficult to figure out when trams arrive. The network is divided into 3 zones, but the trams operate only in zone 1, so you only need a ticket for more than one zone if you are planning a suburban expedition. Tickets for buses and trams can be bought from the newspaper stand.
