

Strasbourg

Photo: Boris Stroujko/Shutterstock.com

toriru/Shutterstock.com

With the tiny rivers and narrow alleys, extraordinarily varied architecture and the poetry which emerges from the magnificent historical centre, the Alsatian capital is simply delightful. A rich cuisine, a plentiful cultural life and a crossroads position in the heart of Europe are also important parts of this city. Both in winter and summer, Strasbourg, which is classified as a world heritage site by the United Nations, is one of France's most attractive and romantic destinations.

Leonid Andronov/Shutterstock.com

Boris Stroujko/Shutterstock.com

Go where no one has VENTURED BEFORE!

5 Off the Beaten Track
Destinations in Asia

ArrivalGuides

Foto: WhitefoxChen / Shutterstock

Top 5

Cathédrale Notre Dame

The pink sandstone cathedral is a marvel both outside and inside. It houses ...

Petite-France

This is the most picturesque and romantic district of Strasbourg. The alleys...

Ponts Couverts

These three historic bridges and their four stone towers dating back to the ...

European Institutions

This is one of the major political centres of the European Union, with the C...

Maison Kammerzell

Maison Kammerzell has been turned into a restaurant. This house is definitel...

THE CITY

Netfalls - Remy Musser/Shutterstock.com

From the earliest centuries AD, Strasbourg has always been considered an important crossroads of Europe. In the fifth century, Franks already gave it the name of Strateburgum, "the road's fortified place." So, it's not by chance that the European parliament - a symbol of the town's cosmopolitan spirit - was built here, very close to the Rhine and the German border. The special atmosphere is also discernible in the architecture of the houses and churches, and is audible in the Alsatian dialect, which is a mixture of French and German.

The historical centre, surrounded by the charming river Ill, is the real marvel of Strasbourg. It comprises the "Petite France," "la place Kléber" and the cathedral area, which are all perfect places for strolling, improving one's mind, shopping, relaxing outside cafés or even having parties. And, above all, it's heaven for sweet wines, beers and haute-cuisine lovers.

DO & SEE

Leonid Andronov/Shutterstock.com

The historical centre, surrounded by the charming river Ill, is the real marvel of Strasbourg. It comprises the "Petite France," "la place Kléber" and the cathedral area, which are all perfect places for strolling, improving one's mind, shopping, relaxing outside cafés or even having parties.

Cathédrale Notre Dame

the whole city.

The pink sandstone cathedral is a marvel both outside and inside. It houses an old astronomical clock and a top platform to gaze at

Photo: Sergey Kelin/Shutterstock.com

Address: Place de la Cathédrale, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 88 214 334

Internet: www.cathedrale-strasbourg.fr

Petite-France

thanks to canals, the river Ill gives visitors the feeling of strolling in Venice. Fluvial tours of 70

This is the most picturesque and romantic district of Strasbourg. The alleys offer a succession of old half-timbered houses and, minutes with explanations in several languages are available.

Photo: Victor Yuminov/Shutterstock.com

Address: Place du marché aux poissons, Strasbourg

Internet: www.strasbourg.port.fr

Ponts Couverts

These three historic bridges and their four stone towers dating back to the 13th century are iconic in Strasbourg. They cross four canals that run through Petite France.

Photo: StevanZZ/Shutterstock.com

Address: Ponts Couverts, Strasbourg

European Institutions

This is one of the major political centres of the European Union, with the Council of Europe, the Palace of Human Rights and the European Parliament all clustered close to the Rhine. Visits are upon reservation only, but even a walk around those huge buildings is worth seeing.

Photo: 3000ad/Shutterstock.com

Address: Avenue de l'Europe, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8841 2029

Internet: www.europarl.eu

Maison Kammerzell

Maison Kammerzell has been turned into a restaurant. This house is definitely the most beautiful in Strasbourg thanks to the marvellous sculpted framework ornatng the upper floors.

The architecture is late Gothic and simply a must to visit.

Photo: Sergey Kelin/Shutterstock.com

Address: 16 Place de la Cathédrale, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 4214

Internet: www.maison-kammerzell.com

Email: info@maison-kammerzell.com

Le Musée Alsacien

Le Musée Alsacien is located in former Strasbourg homes. This museum is a must for discovering Alsatian traditions. The museum gives a great insight of Strasbourg's art and folk tradition.

Photo: Pack-Shot/Shutterstock.com

Address: 23-25 Quai Saint-Nicolas, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8852 5001

Internet:

www.musees.strasbourg.eu/index.php?page=musee-alsacien

Parc de l'Orangerie

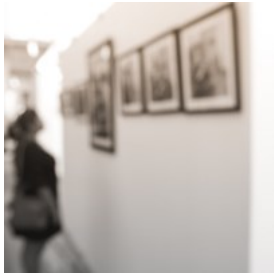

This beloved park is located close to the European Parliament building and a popular place among locals and expats alike. Besides being a great place for joggers, children and dog owners the park offers a bowling alley, two restaurants, a town zoo and a small farm.

Photo: Walencienne/Shutterstock.com

Address: Allee de la Robertsau, Strasbourg

Internet: www.orangerie-strasbourg.e-monsite.com

Mémorial de l'Alsace Moselle

This memorial presents the stages in the bloody history of Alsace and Moselle people who changed nationality 4 times between 1870 and 1945. They have free self-guiding tours.

Photo: atibody photo/Shutterstock.com

Address: Lieu dit du Chauffour, Allee du Souvenir Français, Schirmeck

Phone: +33 3 8847 4550

Internet: www.memorial-alsace-moselle.com

Les Secrets du Chocolat

Les Secrets du Chocolat is 800 m² entirely devoted to cocoa. One of the best things is that 100 grams of chocolate is offered to each person at the end of the visit.

Photo: avs/Shutterstock.com

Address: Rue du Pont du Péage, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8855 0490

Internet: www.musee-du-chocolat.com

More Info: Parc de la Porte Sud

DINING

CroMary/Shutterstock.com

For French people, Strasbourg means beer, wine, baeckeofe (a mixed meat dish with potatoes), flamenküche (a thin pie made up of onions, cheese and lardons) and, of course, choucroute (a generous dish consisting of cabbage, meat, sausages and potatoes). Leaving Strasbourg before tasting some of these typical dishes, which can be found in most of restaurants, would be a real crime!

Le Relais de la Poste

With one star in the prestigious "Guide Michelin," this restaurant is one of the best for discerning gourmets.

Their dishes are refined each season and the sommelier will help you with which wine goes best with your food.

Photo: wrangler/Shutterstock.com

Address: 21 rue du général de Gaulle, La Wantzenau

Phone: +33 3 8859 2480

Internet: www.relais-poste.com

Email: info@relais-poste.com

Chez Yvonne

A "winstub" is a typical Alsatian restaurant, with local dishes. Chez Yvonne is probably the most famous one of Strasbourg. The service is friendly and the portions generous.

Photo: andrecaastro/Shutterstock.com

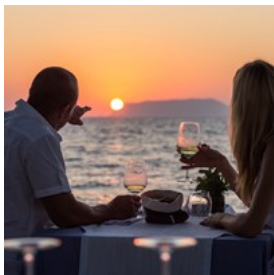

Address: 10 Rue du Sanglier, Strasbourg

Opening hours: Daily 12pm-2:15pm and 6pm-12am

Phone: +33 3 8832 8415

Internet: www.restaurant-chez-yvonne.net

L'Ancienne Douane

L'Ancienne Douane serves traditional cuisine, like the place itself and the waiters, who are all dressed in Alsatian costumes. If the weather permits and if there is room, take a seat on the balcony and enjoy the beautiful views over the water.

Photo: Apelavi/Shutterstock.com

Address: 6 Rue de la Douane, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8815 7878

Internet: www.anciennedouane.fr

Email: anciennedouane.rv@elior.com

Les Deux Gourmandes

Les Deux Gourmandes - the two gourmets - has a warm family atmosphere. Enjoy the cosy interior along with the wide variety of local dishes.

Photo: Nadya Lukic/Shutterstock.com

Address: 1 Rue des Serruriers, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 4547

Le Buerehiesel

Located in a reconstructed farmhouse right in the middle of beautiful and lush Parc de l'Orangerie, this great restaurant offers some of the best Alsatian cuisine in Strasbourg, as well as seafood.

Photo: svariophoto/Shutterstock.com

Address: 4 parc de l'Orangerie, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8845 5665

Internet: www.buerehiesel.fr

Maison des Tanneurs

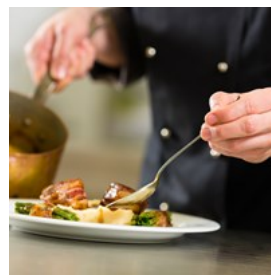

This popular restaurant serves generous portions of regional specialties in a beautiful 16th-century building in Petite France.

Photo: Kzenon/Shutterstock.com

Address: 42 rue Bain aux Plantes, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 7970

Zum Strissel

More traditional Alsatian fare is served in this historical restaurant dating back to the 16th century amid a beautifully decorated backdrop.

Photo: Kzenon/Shutterstock.com

Address: 5 pl. de la Grande-Boucherie, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 1473

Internet: www.strissel.fr

Au Crocodile

Glamour and elegance dominate in this Alsatian-French haute cuisine restaurant. The chef has worked privately for French presidents, so the standards at the restaurants are as high as the prices.

Photo: Semen Kuzmin/Shutterstock.com

Address: 10 rue de l'Outre, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 1302

Internet: www.au-crocodile.com

CAFES

Sergey Kelin/Shutterstock.com

The French are known for their café traditions and Strasbourg is no exception. Relax with a croissant and a nice cup of coffee.

La Place

La Place is one of the trendiest cafés of Strasbourg. The location and the atmosphere of the café make this an ideal spot for having a drink and snack.

Photo: ventdusud/Shutterstock.com

Address: 3 Place des Tripiers, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8822 2220

Troc'afé

Everything is for sale in this special place, where artists come to have a drink. If you haven't got enough money to pay, you can also barter one of your belongings.

Photo: T photography/Shutterstock.com

Address: 8 Rue du Faubourg de Saverne, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8823 2329

Bistrot des Arts

This is a nice café for drinking everything - even soups from 6 pm. There is also internet available in a separate room if needed.

Photo: Mariola Anna S/Shutterstock.com

Address: 10 Quai des Pêcheurs, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8835 1060

Atlantico

Atlantico is hard to miss as it is located on a red boat. This café is a popular place with very affordable prices and delicious sweets.

Photo: Ditty_about_summer/Shutterstock.com

Address: Quai des pêcheurs, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8835 7781

Internet: www.cafe-atlantico.net

Café de l'Opéra

This is a chic place close to the opera. Café de l'Opéra is perfect for eating French pastries and drinking fresh fruit juices.

Photo: Africa studios/Shutterstock.com

Address: 19 Place Broglie, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8822 9851

Internet: www.cafedelopera.fr

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Alex Poison/Shutterstock.com

Wine and beers are parts of Strasbourg's identity. Whatever you like, you should find what you are looking for in the numerous and hearty bars, in the centre or closer to the wharves.

Strasbourg is a university town, and thanks to its big campus, there's plenty of places to party.

The city's cosmopolitan spirit means there's also a little bit of everything to suit all tastes and ages.

Champagne Bar

With sixty different types of champagne, this bar and lounge, ideally located in Petite France, is your best bet to drink prestigious champagne.

Photo: Jag_cz/Shutterstock.com

Address: 5 rue des Moulins, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8876 4343

Internet: www.regent-petite-france.com/en/restaurant-bar/champagne-bar

Email: rpf@regent-hotels.com

L'épicerie

L'épicerie is a beautifully decorated old bar, which has several local wines and singular syrups. French music is never far away and sets the perfect mood for a lovely evening.

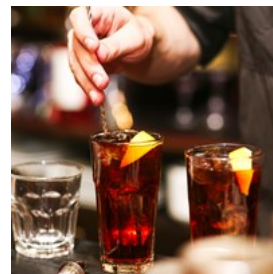

Photo: Aleksei Lazukov/Shutterstock.com

Address: 6 Rue du Vieux Seigle, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8832 5241

Internet: www.lepicerie-strasbourg.com

Jeanette et les cycleux

Jeanette et les cycleux has a special atmosphere with an antique red moped attached to the wall. It will plunge you into the '60s and '70s spirit.

Photo: dmitrymoi/Shutterstock.com

Address: 30 rue des Tonneliers, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8823 0271

Internet: www.lenetdejeannette.com

Tapas café

Tapas café has delicious hot and Spanish atmosphere with many types of tapas to be served with your drink. The fiery mojito is never a bad choice to start off the night.

Photo: Ivan Mateev/Shutterstock.com
Address: 16 Rue du Bain Finkwiller, Strasbourg
Phone: +33 3 8824 5730
Internet: www.tapas-cafe.fr
Email: contact@tapas-cafe.fr

L'académie de la Bière

Welcome to this bar, restaurant and club. L'académie de la Bière always has a good clientele trying their many beers.

Photo: nunosilvaphotography/Shutterstock.com
Address: 17 Rue Adolphe Seyboth, Strasbourg
Phone: +33 3 8822 3888
Internet: www.academie-biere.com

Au camionneur

Concerts, one-man shows and stage improvisations are common in this trendy club. They have many types of wines and beers.

Photo: CHAINFOTO24/Shutterstock.com
Address: 14 Rue Georges Wodli, Strasbourg
Phone: +33 3 8832 1260
Internet: www.au-camionneur.fr

La Laiterie

This multi-purpose event and concert hall hosts art shows, workshops and live music of all genres in the Vieille Ville neighbourhood, where students gather on the numerous bars of the area.

Photo: Ververidis Vasilis/Shutterstock.com
Address: 16 rue Hohwald, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8823 7237
Internet: www.artefact.org

Bar Exils

Exils is a fantastic student bar, with everything you'd expect from such an establishment: darts, pool and nice, cheap beer.

Photo: Kzenon/Shutterstock.com
Address: 28 rue de l'Ail, Strasbourg
Phone: +33 3 8832 5270
Internet: www.barexils.com

Odysée

Cinema lovers will not want to miss catching a show at Odysée, a great arthouse cinema showcasing some of the best indie films of the moment.

Photo: StockLite/Shutterstock.com
Address: 3 rue des Francs-Bourgeois, Strasbourg
Phone: +33 3 8875 1047
Internet: www.cinemaodyssee.com
Email: cinemaodyssee@gmail.com

SHOPPING

Hadrian/Shutterstock.com

Luxury brands and fancy accessories abound, as in any French city, but where Strasbourg's shopping really shines is in local products. Local wine is a must for any visitor, but also foie gras, liqueurs, kougelhops, macaroons, gingerbread and many other traditional biscuits.

Carré d'Or

fashion, perfume, jewellery and accessories.

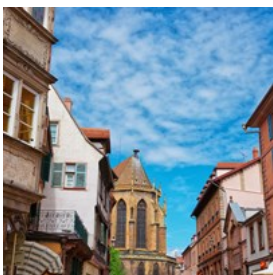

A "village within the city," le Carré d'Or, located between Rue du dôme and Rue des Orfèvres, houses a concentration of luxury shops selling high

Photo: Drogba/Shutterstock.com

Address: Carré d'Or, Strasbourg

Internet: www.lecarredor-strasbourg.fr

Grand Rue and Historical Centre

Luxury shops and little boutiques cater to all tastes in the historical centre, a semi-pedestrian precinct, which is Strasbourg's main shopping area. Rue des Grandes Arcades, between Place Kléber and Place Gutenberg, is, along with Grand'rue, your best bet for clothes, gifts and decoration. All the alleys starting from these streets are chock full of small shops.

Photo: Roman Babakin/Shutterstock.com

Address: Grand Rue, Strasbourg

Place des Halles

done under the same roof - from food to computers and sportswear.

A market and a massive shopping centre, located north of the historical centre, Place des Halles is a great place for getting all your shopping

Photo: Baloncici/Shutterstock.com

Address: 24 Place des Halles, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 8822 2161

Internet: www.placedeshalles.com

Vineyards

which stretch around the city. Cellars sell their own wines after tasting, and prices are generally cheaper than in wine shops of the centre.

Visitors would regret leaving the Strasbourg region without paying a visit to the Riesling, Sylvaner and other Tokay pinot gris vineyards,

Photo: Carole Castelli/Shutterstock.com

Address: Strasbourg Region

Farmer's Market

Stalls line up on Saturday mornings to sell locally produced everything, including produce, wine, honey, flowers and even foie gras.

Photo: Lawrence Jackson/Shutterstock.com

Address: Place du Marché aux Poissons, Strasbourg

Opening hours: Sat 7am-1pm

Christian

Pâtisserie Christian has been creating delicious treats that are more like works of art for over 40 years. Specialties include truffles, pralines, macaroons, and more chocolate and pastry specialties.

Photo: 2creative / Shutterstock.com

Address: 12 rue de l'Outre, Strasbourg

Public Transport: Tram: Broglie

Opening hours: Mon-Sat 7am-6.30pm

Phone: +33 3 8832 0441

Internet: www.christian.fr

Mireille Oster

Though specialising in a typical holiday treat, this place is worth visiting year-round. The specialty gingerbread flavours range from figs and cinnamon to amaretto and chocolate. Be sure to try them all before deciding which to take home.

Photo: haveseen / Shutterstock.com

Address: 14 rue des Dentelles, Strasbourg

Public Transport: Tram: Grand'Rue

Opening hours: Tue-Sat 9am-7pm, Sun-Mon 10am-7pm

Internet: www.mireille-oster.com

La Cloche à Fromage Boutique

The dizzying variety, high quality and delicious flavours of the cheeses at La Cloche à Fromage has earned it a reputation as one of the premier cheese shops in the area. The selection can be sorted by the type of milk used, the region of the country it's from, and even by seasonal specialties.

Photo: Iakov Filimonov / Shutterstock.com

Address: 32 rue des Tonneliers, Strasbourg

Public Transport: Tram: Grand'Rue

Opening hours: Mon-Fri 9am-7pm, Sat 8am-6.30pm

Internet: www.fromagerie-tourrette.com

Le Village de la Bière

This specialty boutique carries hundreds of varieties of beer, from all over the world. Not only can visitors try and take home an exotic and exciting Belgian beer, but also shop for unique glassware and beer memorabilia.

Photo: Brent Hofacker / Shutterstock.com

Address: 22 Rue des Frères, Strasbourg

Opening hours: Tue-Sat 10am-12:30pm and 2:30pm-7:30pm

Phone: +33 3 8836 9004

Librairie Quai des Brumes

If you're looking to buy books during your time in Strasbourg, there is only one place you should go: Librairie Quai des Brumes. As famous for the great selection of books as for the attentive and warm personnel, this is a "general" independent bookshop, meaning that you can find books on all kinds of topics.

Photo: connel / Shutterstock.com

Address: 120 Grand-Rue, Strasbourg

Opening hours: Mon 2pm-7pm, Tue-Sat 10am-7pm

Phone: +33 3 8835 3284

Internet: www.quaidesbrumes.com

Email: librairie@quaidesbrumes.com

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

Leonid Andronov/Shutterstock.com

Strasbourg Airport

Strasbourg Airport is located 18 kilometres southwest of the city centre. A shuttle train stops at the airport and takes you to Strasbourg Station. The journey to Strasbourg Station takes 9 minutes and the train leaves up to 4 times every hour.

Car rental companies are represented at the airport. Two of them are:

Avis

+33 3 88 68 82 53

Budget

+33 820 61 17 00

Photo: Juan Garces

Address: Strasbourg Airport, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 88 64 67 67

Internet: strasbourg.aeroport.fr

Public Transport

There is a possibility to buy a combination ticket for bus and tram. Another cheap way of travelling is to buy 24-hour travel cards. With 430 kilometres, the cycle path network is very well developed and you can also rent bicycles.

CTS (buses and tram):

+33 3 88777070

www.cts-strasbourg.fr

Velocation (bicycle renting):

+33 3 88235675

www.velo-strasbourg.com

Photo: Pierre-Luc Auclair

Phone: +33 3 88777070

Internet: www.cts-strasbourg.fr

Taxi

Taxis 13 +33 3 88361313

www.taxi13.fr Mondial

taxi +33 3 88221111

www.mondialtaxi.com

Phone: +33 3 88361313

Internet: www.taxi13.fr

Post

Post offices are recognizable by blue and yellow signs. Open Mon-Fri 9am-6pm, Sun 9am-1pm.

Photo: Andy Fuchs

Address: 33 Rue de la Première Armée, Strasbourg

Pharmacy

On every chemist's window, a sign details the "pharmacie de garde," which is 24-hours. One pharmacy can be found: Pharmacie de la Vierge

Photo: Gemma Garner

Address: 42 rue des Grandes Arcades, Strasbourg

Phone: +33 3 88 32 16 70

Internet: www.pharmaciedelavierge.fr

Telephone

Country code: +33 Area code: 03

Photo: Jardson Almeida

Electricity

220 Volts

Photo: Stirling Tschan

Population

City: 272,222

Metropolitan area: 764,013

Currency

1 Euro = 100 cents

Opening hours

Shops: Mon-Sat 10am-1pm and 2pm-7pm

Supermarkets: Mon-Sat 9am-9pm. Reduced hours or closed Sundays.

Newspapers

Les Dernières Nouvelles d'Alsace
L'Alsace

Saisons d'Alsace
Strasbourg magazine
Spectacles
Bibouille

Emergency numbers

Ambulance 15
Police 17
Fire 18
European emergency number 112
SOS doctors Tel: +33 3 88757575

Tourist information

Office du tourisme
Place de la Gare, Strasbourg
every day from 9am-7pm
+33 3 88 522 828