CTZ Nuremberg, Uwe Niklas

Once you've experienced the city's enchanting historical ambience and seen the mighty Kaiserburg, you'll never forget them. The beautiful Old Town, which is the epitome of medieval charm, is nestled at the foot of the castle. It's home to historical buildings, spectacular churches, one of Germany's largest pedestrian areas and the traditional Hauptmarkt. But Nuremberg is more than just a melting pot of cultural highlights. Bavaria's second-largest city also offers a wealth of culinary delights, so why not stop off at one of the traditional Bratwursthäuser (sausage restaurants) and try a "3 im Weggla" (3 Nuremberg grilled sausages in a roll)?

THE CITY

Welcome to Nuremberg!

Nuremberg's wealth of sights, delights and highlights means there's always something for residents and visitors of all ages to discover. One of these is the Christkindlesmarkt, the city's most famous event. Year after year, 2.3 million visitors visit one of the world's most beautiful Christmas markets to experience its quaint atmosphere, taste the range of delicacies and listen to the Christmas Angel's opening prologue.

The famous Bardentreffen and Blaue Nacht events are well worth a visit too, as is Rock im Park, one of Germany's largest rock festivals.

The Sigena Urkunde, a deed published in 1050 by Emperor Henry III, contains the first documented reference to Nuremberg. The Kaiserburg, which was designed as a political and military hub and was one of the key imperial palaces of the Middle Ages, is still the city's main landmark. Nuremberg's appointment as an Imperial City put it under direct control of the Emperor and it enjoyed a number of privileges as a result. But the city also became known for its many scholars and artists, such as the painter Albrecht Dürer, one of the city's most famous residents.

Nuremberg's unusual affinity with the crafts eventually made it one of the key trading towns in the Middle Ages. In more recent times, Nuremberg gained a less favourable reputation for itself during the National Socialist era. Even today, parts of the city are still home to gigantic ruins representing the Nazi regime's deluded notion of grandeur. After the city was virtually razed to the ground in the Second World War, the decision was made to start rebuilding the historical Old Town to reflect its original glory. Along with neighbouring towns Fürth, Erlangen and Schwabach, the city today makes up the metropolitan area of Nuremberg.

The city's rambling shopping streets, vast green spaces, art and culture attract visitors to the city the whole year round.

DO & SEE

Nuremberg. It's a city where there's plenty to experience and even more to see. Why not start your day with a wander round the city or a visit to one of the many museums? Then unwind in one of the beautiful cafes or treat your taste buds to Franconian specialties in one of the Old Town's many restaurants. You're sure to be enchanted by the picturesque flair of the Old Town, situated at the foot of the Kaiserburg. Take a look around and journey into times past...

The Kaiserburg

Dominating the city skyline, you can't fail to notice it: the Kaiserburg. At the time of the Holy Roman Empire, the castle was occasionally home to each of the emperors, and in the Middle Ages, it was one of the most important royal palaces. The sights here include the new castle museum, the palace with the emperor's living quarters, the Romanesque Double Chapel, the Deep Well and the Sinwell Tower. The neighbouring garden is a must-see too. It might be small, but it's a welcome contrast to the hustle and bustle of the city and is popular with residents too. The castle's garden is open from April to October.

Albrecht-Dürer's House

The Albrecht-Dürer-Haus is one of the most famous museums and exhibitions in Nuremberg. Between 1509 and 1528, it was Albrecht Dürer's home and workplace. Today, the building is both a memorial and a museum. The rooms feature period furnishings, and visitors can see a demonstration of the printing procedure used in Dürer's lifetime in one of the bedrooms. The top floor, meanwhile, showcases copies of the artist's works. The museum houses a variety of temporary exhibitions featuring original works. We highly recommend taking the guided tour with Agnes Dürer, wife of the famous artist. She gives a faithful account of what life was like 500 years ago.

Documentation Centre Nazi Party Rally Grounds

Even today, the former Reichsparteitagsgelände (Nazi Party Rally Grounds) in the south of the city is still home to gigantic ruins representing the Nazi regime's deluded notion of grandeur. The 11 km² complex was where the Nazi Party orchestrated its propaganda campaign. The documentation centre is located in the north wing of the Kongresshalle, which was designed by the Nazis to hold 50 000 people and was never completed. The permanent "Faszination und Gewalt" ("Fascination and Terror") exhibition housed in the 1300 m² venue, chronicles the causes, relationships and consequences of the Nazi dictatorship.

Historic Rock-Cut Cellars

An extensive labyrinth of underground passageways and cellar vaults has existed in the bedrock of castle hill for centuries - the Historic Rock-Cut Cellars. As early as 1380 red beer was stored in the subterranean cellars, sometimes comprising four levels, that had been cut into the Burgsandstein (local Nuremberg sandstone). During the air raids of World War II many citizens found shelter in these historical vaults. Reservations and Meeting Point: Brewery Shop

Main Market Square, Church of Our Lady and Beautiful Fountain

The large market square located at the heart of the city centre is surrounded by a multitude of must-see sights. The daily market takes place here too, where you can buy all sorts of tasty treats, flowers and spices. The ornate Beautiful Fountain is a well-photographed sight. The two rings on the fence are the focus of much attention. A legend says that if you turn the "golden ring" and make a wish, it will come true. The black ring, meanwhile, is said to bless women with children. The main market square is characterised by the facade of the Church of Our Lady constructed as an imperial royal chapel. Every day at noon the "Männleinlaufen" (mechanical clock and glockenspiel) takes place here - a daily event not to be missed!

Friedhof St. Johannis

The Friedhof St. Johannis is one of Europe's most important cemeteries, as a number of famous personalities, such as Albrecht Dürer and Veith Stoss, are buried here. A very beautiful place, it is also known as the "Cemetery of Roses" as a result of the many roses that grow on the site. The cemetery was commissioned as a result of the advanced council order that no longer permitted burials to be performed within the city walls. A new cemetery therefore had to be built in the surrounding area for the northern part of the city. Why not visit the baroque Hesperidengärten afterwards?

St. Sebald Church

Nuremberg’s oldest town church St. Sebald dates back to approx. the year 1215. The church is located underneath the Imperial Castle and contains important works of art such as the imposing 4.17 meter high tomb built by the artist Peter Vischer - the bones of Nuremberg's patron saint Sebaldus are presumed to rest here. The famous Nuremberg painter Albrecht Dürer was baptized and got married there. Destroyed during World War II, St. Sebald was reconstructed in 1957.

UNIQUE SPOTS

There are many hidden places in Nuremberg, next to the Imperial Castle, the Christmas Market and the different museums, which are definitely worth a visit! These places are baroque, culinary and sometimes even subterranean.

Mayor's Garden

You walk through the splendid gardens into an idyllic park in which the silence is uninterrupted, save for the twittering and chirping of birds and grasshoppers. This is also the only place, by the way, where the castle wall is accessible to the public. The garden has a fairy-tale-like character and even feels slightly enchanted. Stone gates, figures, benches and staircases line the winding path and from a stone gallery you can find a wonderful view of the Tiergärtnerplatz and the Albrecht Dürer House.

Address: Neutorzwingler

Opening hours: April - October

Gardens of the Hesperides

The Gardens of the Hesperides in Nuremberg were established outside the town walls in the St. John's district in the Middle Ages. Today it is still possible to view a number of statues and fountains in these public gardens, giving visitors an impression of the famous garden culture from the 17th and 18th century. The nostalgic café invites for a little break. Next to the gardens is the famous St. John's Cemetery, don't miss these!

Address: Johannisstraße 13

Opening hours: April - October

Tiergärtnerplatz

Next to the Imperial Castle, the Tiergärtnerplatz is the perfect place to relax and enjoy the view of the historic Old Town of Nuremberg. Especially during summer people meet here to have a drink and sit together for a coffee. The unique ensemble of the Imperial Castle, Albrecht Dürer House and other framework houses make this a unique spot!

Address: Tiergärtnerplatz

Medieval Dungeons

Just a few steps away from the main market square, vaulted cellars below the splendid city hall built in Nuremberg's golden age accommodate the mediaeval dungeons. They were established as early as the 14th century and were not prisons as we know them today, but were used mainly for prisoners awaiting trial and for convicted criminals awaiting execution of their judgement.

Hallerwiese

Directly at the river Pegnitz, the Hallerwiese is one of the most popular parks in Nuremberg.

Strollers, the go walkies, jogger and bikers use the area for their activities. Here you can take a sunbath, have a picnic or just relax doing nothing. Most famous Hot Spot is the Café "Schneperschütz".

GoHo

For a proper hedonist, there is no lifestyle without culture and cuisine, which is why he feels so much at home in Gostenhof. You can stroll from the vintage shop to the cycle workshop, from the friendly optician to the crazy designer shop. The hip district of Gostenhof on the edge of the Nuremberg city centre is still a kind of insider tip. Gostenhof is a must for devotees of individual treasures of the beaten track.

Former Wine Depot

The building was erected 1446/48 to house lepers who were allowed into the city for three days at Easter, during which time they received food and clothing and medical attention. After ca 1571, the building was used to store wine - hence the name. It later served as workhouse and spinners and to lodge poor families. In 1950 it was turned into student housing, whereby the internal structural substance was virtually obliterated.

Close by you can find the Chained Suspension Bridge which is the first iron suspension bridge ever built and the Hangman's Bridge, which was constructed as a wooden footbridge in 1457. Between the 16th and the 19th c., the Nuremberg hangman lived in the tower and the roofed over walkway above the Pegnitz River.

Tanners' Lane

The largest ensemble of old artisan houses in Nuremberg can be found in the Weißgerbergasse (tanners' lane).

Predominantly

half-timbered, the historical town houses, often with their own wells and a garden, testify to the affluence that could be attributed to the art of leather making. Instead of the busy tanners in the Middle Ages, the Weißgerbergasse today is populated with cafés, bars, small boutiques and handicraft workshops.

Trödelmarkt

The Nuremberg Trödelmarkt, located between Unschlittplatz and the Karlsbrücke (Charles Bridge), was originally a trading area -

DINING

Uwe Niklas

Without a shadow of doubt, Nuremberg's most famous food export is the Nürnberger Rostbratwurst. No bigger than your finger, you can order 6, 8, 10 or 12 of these sausages, which are in most cases served with sauerkraut or potato salad. If you're feeling a bit peckish in between meals, why not try a "3 im Weggla" (3 sausages in a roll), which is generally garnished with mustard. Or if you're in the mood for a hearty meal, how about sampling the delights on Franconian menus, which traditionally include "Schäuferle mit Kloss und Soss" (roasted pork shoulder with dumplings and gravy) or Sauerbraten (marinated beef). You can't come to Nuremberg and not try the local delicacies!

Bratwurst Röslein

Bratwursthäusle

Not far from the Sebalduskirche, the Bratwursthäusle has been giving original Nürnberger Rostbratwürste a hint of beechwood by cooking them over a wood fire since 1313. True to tradition, the Bratwursthäusle has its own butcher shop, where the Nuremberg specialities are freshly prepared each day. Hungry visitors can enjoy their sausages and a freshly pulled pint on the two terraces, which boast historical surroundings and views of the Sebalduskirche, the Rathaus and the Hauptmarkt. The little delicacies, which are always grilled to order, are served on a tin plate, just like in Albrecht Dürer's time.
